Organized by

ECO CLUB of Civil Engineering Department

The “ECO CLUB of Civil Engineering Department” has organized an awareness programme on “Water Conservation Methods & Techniques”. As a part of this programme, the team visited a Residential area named Dwarakanagar at Krishnalanka, Vijayawada.

The team of Students & Faculty of ALIET addressed them regarding various techniques to save water in day to day life. Our students explained them about the scenarios of water scarcity which is striking the society today. They also gave the following inputs to save water,

- (i) By adopting proper plumbing and sanitation fixtures at wash and utility areas.
- (ii) By keeping an eye on the consumption of water to perform household activities.
- (iii) By installing rain water harvesting units on their roof tops during rainy season.

At the last the student and faculty members of ALIET clarified their doubts about installation of Water harvesting systems and beneficiary ways of installation of fixtures. It gave us a wholesome new experience to interact with them. We thank the management of ALIET for giving such a wonderful opportunity.
